DOWNTOWN ALLEYS IN BAD CONDITION, INSPECTION SHOWS FORM IDEAL BREEDING PLACES FOR FLIES AND OTHER IN- SECTS.

VARYING ODORS Council May Pass Ordinance Tonight Ordering General Clean-up.

That there is need for regulation of the sanitary conditions existing in Janesville and which it is proposed to more rigidly regulate by an ordinance to be introduced into the council tonight by Alderman J. J. Dulin, was apparent when a reporter for the Gazette in company with an official of the Chamber of Commerce made a trip through downtown sections of the city on a tour of inspection. Uncovered manure piles, decayed vegetables and meats, coffee and heaps of ashes, lumber and old boxes, bottles, tin cans and piles of what-nots are the chief offenders. When the eye enters a clean patch the nose cannot escape the odors of uncleanness.

An Example Near C. of C.
Dropping out of the back door of the Chamber of Commerce one comes on a sight more common on Goose Island, than should be in Janesville's downtown business district. The fringe of buildings on Bluff, Milwaukee and Main form a large court bounded on the east by the Beverly building. In the center is a huge sheet-iron cylinder is smoking and giving off evil odors of meat scraps and vegetables burning with rubbish and waste paper. Along the Beverly wall is strewn a heap of piano boxes. To the rear of the Main street stores are old boxes and other rubbish. In the southwest corner of the court is the back door of a cafe kitchen. A small platform is summed full with garbage, tin cans, chicken bones and other refuse, which myriads of flies are gathered. Ash heaps, tin cans, paper and bottles are all about the court.

Along either wall are piled the ashes and floor sweepings. The mass is nearly as solid as concrete. A few of the ex-salt-stores are here, but the bottles, hundreds of them—short ones, tall ones, fat ones, flat ones, round ones and lots of others—behind the buildings on the north of Milwaukee street, between North Main and Bluff, are the most numerous. The investigation went on for several weeks ago.

The river bank from the North Main street fire station to Milwaukee street, was next visited. It was not as bad as it has been, but there is still much room for improvement. The problems got out quick when they stirred up a great swarm of midges and mosquitoes.

Along the river, paralleling the river eastward from Milwaukee street, bridge can stand lots of work. At the rear of the houses there are a number of garbage cans and vegetable refuse, waste and paper strewn about. To the rear of the building are ashes and lots of old boxes and lumber.

Nearly all stores fronting on Main street can place their back yards in better condition. One feature that is missing is the manure pile at the river bank to the rear of Nelson's livery. But back of Sheldon's, near the river, is a bad mess. There is garbage, lumber and old boxes, refuse, tin cans, much junk.

On the West Side.
Between the Rink garage and the hotel at the corner of Pleasant and Howard, an inspection space is filled with lumber, boxes, old buggies and wagons, eight or nine barrels full of straw, garbage and the like thrown over the fence.

Around Doty's mill and to the rear of all the stores on South River street there has been little regard for appearance. The same is true to the rear of the stores fronting on West Milwaukee. An open shed with manure pile here stifles the atmosphere.

The alley between the Kimball and Burns' stores is in bad condition. (Continued on page 8.)

HOPE TO MUSTER IN
CAVALRY TOMORROW

Mustering of Janesville's new cavalry company as a unit of the national guard at inspection space in the night of the army is now assured, stated Capt. H. Cherbonnier today with the signing up of enough more recruits to make necessary 50.

In order to receive federal aid and become a unit of the state guard, it is necessary to have an enrollment of 50 or more. The company has more than 30 signed. Others were secured yesterday and today. It is expected that many more will sign up within the next few days.

State officials will conduct the inspection and mustering tomorrow night.

ITALY TROUBLED BY RED ACTIVITIES

Deep Scheme to Overturn Social Order Is Indicated.

Rome, June 28.—Reports of disorders in widely separated parts of Italy appear to corroborate the impression that they are part of a deep scheme to overturn social order throughout the entire country. Unemployment is the alleged reason for the strikes and for rioting.

At Bologna, red flags have been hoisted above the municipal buildings. Telegraph lines have been cut and roads blocked. At Florence, Caluso and Domago, Carabinieri have dispersed rioters at Brignano.

Police are attacked.
At Bologna, red flags have occurred and soldiers and police have been attacked by revolvers and hand grenades and have replied with machine guns.

Further disturbances in and around Ancona are reported. Anarchists are concentrating around the harbor and machine guns. Three have been killed in encounters with policemen. Reinforcements rushed to the scene where rioters were attacking neighboring houses and it is said women participated in the fighting.

SERVICE MEN PLAN BONUS LEGISLATION

San Francisco, June 28.—Service men among convention delegates today perfected plans for obtaining the endorsement of the democratic party for bonus legislation. It was decided to adopt the American "four way" plan of rewarding veterans of the late war, by extending paid up insurance, education or flat cash compensation.

A committee will appear before the resolutions committee with the plank drawn up for approval.

TRIAL OF BIG TIM IN ENRIGHT KILLING CONTINUED TO JULY

Chicago, June 28.—Trial of "Big Tim" Murphy, former state representative and Mike Carrozzo, and Vincenzo Cusano for the murder of Maurice "Moose" Enright, "king of the gamblers," was continued today until July 20 at the request of the state.

The state attorney's office asked more time to search for 2 witnesses who are said to have disappeared.

DAVIES CHAIRMAN OF BADGER DELEGATION

San Francisco, June 28.—The Wisconsin delegation here has held no caucus, but an informal agreement was made by the convention by which Joseph E. Davies, former federal trade commissioner, becomes chairman and Judge J. C. Karel, Milwaukee, resolutions committee member, has been accepted.

Delegates said McAdoo sentiment predominated in the convention through all of the principal contenders for the presidential vote to be represented on early ballots.

NORMAN E. MACK, For years Democratic national committeeman from New York, is reported as favoring Governor Cox for president.

Bryan Displays Skill In Maneuvering Wedge In Democratic Planks

Issues and Platforms Rather Than Candidates Are Worrying Leaders of National Convention; Wilson's Leadership Hangs in Balance.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

San Francisco, June 28.—Issues and platform planks rather than candidates are worrying the leaders of the democratic national convention and they are giving the Wilson leaders much to worry about. They are confident of electing Glass but it will be a close shave. The people behind Senator Walsh and William Jennings Bryan have maneuvered themselves into a position of strength in the platform resolutions committee which drafts the platform. The old fight between the democratic senators who supported Senator Lodge's reservations and those who supported Senator E. A. Tamm, and President Wilson in their stand for interpretative reservations to the peace treaty has broken out anew.

Mr. Bryan has cleverly gotten behind Senator Walsh of Montana, who voted for the Lodge reservations, and who is popular with the western senators and is the candidate for chairman of the platform committee.

WILSON FOR GLASS

Senator Has President's Support for Chairman of Platform Committee.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

San Francisco, June 28. (noon).—Neither Gov. Cox of Ohio nor William Gibbs McAdoo will be nominated on the first ballot at the democratic national convention. Attorney General Palmer will get the most votes on the first. He will be eliminated as the balloting progresses. The sum total of the Palmer and McAdoo ballots on the first few roll calls will constitute a majority and control of the convention and will be an indication of the Wilson strength.

Favorite sons like Glass of Virginia, Cummings of Connecticut, Edgar of New Jersey, and Cox of Ohio will get the remainder of the delegates. Tammany Hall and the delegations from New Jersey, Illinois, Maryland and Massachusetts, which are set to be able to deadlock this convention indefinitely though they may be unable to force the selection of candidates of their own. That is the democratic convention looks on the day of its opening.

Contest Over Platform
But before the balloting comes there will be plenty of contest and controversy over the platform. Senator Carter Glass of Virginia supported by the president, has made a strong case for the chairmanship of the platform committee than Senator Walsh of Montana although he has the backing of William Jennings Bryan.

Rec'd Threatens Trouble
Moreover Senator James Reed of Missouri is still endeavoring to get a seat on the convention and threatens trouble. He got 12 votes out of 46 when the national committee considered his case. There is evidence that the administration forces will control at least 14 votes on the platform committee out of 53 and possibly more. Then the platform is in the hands of the opposition.

But before the balloting comes there will be plenty of contest and controversy over the platform. Senator Carter Glass of Virginia supported by the president, has made a strong case for the chairmanship of the platform committee than Senator Walsh of Montana although he has the backing of William Jennings Bryan.

But the most harmful thing to the Cox candidacy comes from an entirely different direction. Ed Moore, a committee man from Ohio, voted to seat Senator Reed of Missouri. Moreover in the fight between Senator Walsh and Senator Glass for the chairmanship of the platform committee, Moore is understood to have lined up against Senator Glass, the choice of President Wilson. This sends more and more to align the Cox forces with the anti-administration groups and helps to solidify the Palmer and McAdoo leaders. The best bet that the Wilson Glass McAdoo though Governor Cox is by no means out of the reckoning. He is running McAdoo a close race.

SAFETY FIRST

An elevator light has been placed on the dock of the Janesville Launch club on Rock river at Fifth avenue. It is expected that this will avert accidents in leaving and boarding boats.

Mr. Bryan has been insisting that the reservations adopted by the republican majority of the senate should have been accepted by the president.

ANTI-PROFIT PLANK FRAMED BY BRYAN

Great Commoner Pledges Democrats to Rid Nation of Profiteer.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
San Francisco, June 28.—State commissions similar to the federal trade commission to prevent profiteering, are a feature of a plank on profiteering proposed by William J. Bryan.

"The democratic party pledges the nation to rid it of the profiteer and to close the door against the return of the profiteer," said Bryan. "It will endeavor to eliminate all unnecessary middlemen by the encouragement of organizations among producers that will bring those who sell and those who use nearer together. It will enact and enforce laws that will effectively prevent excessive charges by such middlemen as are necessary to the public. It will demand legislation subjecting to the penalties of the criminal law all corporate officers and employees who give out false information that result in extortion; it will make it unlawful for anyone engaged in interstate commerce to make the sale of one article dependent upon the sale of another article and it will require such corporations to disclose to customers the difference between cost price and selling price or limit the profit that can be legally charged as the rate of interest is now limited. It will also endeavor to create in the several states trade commissions to be known as boards of the federal trade commission and to enact laws authorizing each local community to create a board similar to the federal board for the investigation of local charges of profiteering."

The clauses to punish profiteering by corporation officers, Mr. Bryan said, had been met court decisions preventing prison sentences being imposed on corporation officers.

Another plank dealing with the Treaty of Versailles and the league of nations is to be made public tomorrow by Mr. Bryan.

He declared that the peace time record of the democratic party from March, 1913 to the outbreak of the war has to its credit "more effective, constructive and remedial legislation than the republican party has placed in the statute books in a generation."

"Praises Wilson's Course."
Praising the administration's record in the war, Mr. Bryan said, "We fought a great war, for a great cause and we had a leadership that carried America to greater heights of honor and power and glory than she has ever known before in her entire history."

"Let no one misunderstand us," he said, "we are not going to throw forward under the stimulus of American patriotism, supported by the courage and spirit of our people, will not be repeated. We are not going to let the republicans who conducted the Spanish-American war to indulge in the luxury of criticism."

Referring to congressional investigations by "smelling millions," he said that the extra money that was made, over two million dollars wasted and "the result has been to prove that it was the cleanest war ever fought in the history of civilization."

"The republican party became so fixed in its incorrigible habit of conducting investigations that it finally got to the point where it was investigating itself. They discovered fraud and graft and gross and inexcusable expenditures. The revelation that the republicans were conducting an investigation into the fact that the meeting at Chicago was not a convention but an auction. The highest bidder did not get the prize. The publicity which overtook the proceedings frustrated the initial purpose. The Chicago convention left the democratic party as the sole custodian of the honor of the country."

Democratic Aided Farmer
Peace achievements of the democratic party, he asserted, "freed the farmer from the deadening effects of ruinous financial control. Labor was given its Magna Charta of Liberty. Business and finance were released from the thrall of uncertainty."

"The income tax law," he said, "relieved our law of the reproach of being unjustly burdensome to the people. The extra taxes and exactions of the tariff system were removed and a non-partisan tariff commission created. Pan-Americanism was encouraged and the bread thus made for the people came back to us many fold. Alaska was opened to commerce and development. Dollar diplomacy was destroyed. A corrupt lobby was driven from the nation."

Big Fight Over Prohibition Is Laid Aside While Party Chiefs Hear Appeal of National Chairman; First Session Is Short.

(By Associated Press)

San Francisco, June 28.—Opposing forces in the democratic national convention declared a brief truce today when they assembled in the opening session to perfect preliminaries for the week's work.

The big fight over prohibition and the lesser fights over the league of nations and the Irish question were laid aside but not forgotten while the party chiefs and delegates met in the auditorium to hear National Chairman Cummings sound the keynote to which they hope to hear the country respond.

More than ten hundred delegates and more than thirteen thousand alternates and spectators jammed in the big convention getting under way. Nothing but set events were on the program, but contest was in the air, and tussle over the chairmanship of the resolutions committee which would the platform only paused to be resumed again when the convention adjourned until tomorrow's session.

Issues rather than candidates continue to be foremost but the announcement that William G. McAdoo would not reject the nomination put new life into his boomers and today they began where they left off last night perfecting an active organization to push for his candidacy openly on the floor of the convention.

McAdoo Boom Organized.
The McAdoo boomers at a meeting early this morning selected floor managers from many delegates and a field marshal for their whole organization, whose names it was said would be announced later. Nothing would be announced later. Nothing would be announced later. Nothing would be announced later.

McAdoo's friends while hoping for something of a moral personal victory in the war of the candidate which would go far to command strength from delegates who have gone to other camps of no feasible developments that we did not wish to be placed in nomination, said they would go on ahead with Mr. Love's assurances that neither Palmer nor Cox, and that a slide to McAdoo would follow, after the early balloting.

Cox and Palmer Linup Holds.
A "line up" was apparent in the lineup of strength between the Cox and Palmer forces and the chiefs of each were working to make the possible winning of the early balloting. There was talk of a combination against McAdoo, but it was in the realm of possibility. When efforts were made to trace it to the foundation point.

The attitude of the Cox managers toward the nomination here on the eve of the convention of the governor's divorce of 10 years ago was to ignore it entirely.

Ask Moore Folks.
Edmond H. Moore, manager for the Cox candidacy, said he had no statement to make and referred inquiries to "anybody from Dayton, Ohio, who would be glad to talk with the people most familiar with the circumstances there."

Ohio leaders insisted that the published story was an attempt to play on any sentiment against divorce that might exist among women delegates. The Cox people today were conducting an investigation to develop who brought out the story at this time and to make plain the object.

Robinson for Chairman.
Assurance of election of Senator Robinson as permanent chairman was indicated today when William J. Bryan met him at breakfast and extended congratulations stating that he was glad the Arkansas senator's choice was to be unanimous.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

LINDSEY WANTS A POSTPONE-MENT OF THE WEDDING

The family availed me with semi-opportunistic heart. However, my extreme hauteur (I love that word) forced them to a realization of the mysterious change that had taken place in my once so light and trusting nature over night as it were. I was bound to accept on the face of Providence so much of late that I am going to try a few other tactics for a while.

It was later on in the evening, when the family had retired, that I decided to sound out my fiancé on the subject of an indefinite postponement of our marriage—for divers reasons.

His face was enough to convince me, completely, that poor old Jack did not even understand the first rules of freedom, and indecision. He was so amazed at my little story, and reasoning, that he laughed right in my face. It did not annoy me, this, at all, but it did enlighten me considerably.

Instead of making him see a light, I convinced him more than ever that what I really need is a husband, a someone who will watch and protect me "from myself," as he put it.

Oh, horrors! Was there ever so miserable a situation? I who am languishing for lack of myself, for the days and hours in which to roam alone with myself and soul, and find out the reason why to so many things that I am curious about. Isn't it tragic to have such a family, and such a fiancé? All say it is.

I did not argue very long with Jack. I saw that it was useless. Nay, instead, I kept silent, as a wise woman should, and determined harder when I was alone to think, while in Paris and other parts east.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl 17 years old. I am a widow with a man eight years my senior. I have been going with him ever since Christmas. He tells me he loves me and wants me to marry him. The trouble is that every Saturday night he has an appointment to go with for over two years. He says he goes with her for reasons which I never know. In other ways he is true to me and respectful.

I have had dates with him and broken them and he never seemed to object except he says he is sorry for it. Do you think he really loves me?

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Last week I asked a friend whom I have been going with for some time to go with me to a party. I did not know then when it would be. Later I told him and asked him if he would go. He replied that he was going with another bunch. Do you not think mine would be considered the first invitation? Have I any cause to be offended? He would go to the straw ride with you, and then accepted another invitation to the same affair, knowing it was the same, his act was inexcusable. If, however, he is going to another party, it is all right for him to do so because your date was indefinite.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a widow and a man came to see me, winning my confidence, love and devotion. Then he told me he never could marry me. Now he is preparing to marry a girl much younger than he and bring her here to this town to live. What should be my attitude?

"All right, Bill—You can stop reading 'em"

BILL TOLD ME.
HE HAD A good joke.
ON THE maker.
OF A well-known brand.
OF CIGARETTES.
LAST NIGHT, Bill said.
HE READ an ad.
OF THIS cigarette.
IN A magazine.
IT SAID "They Satisfy."
AND THIS morning.
IN HIS newspaper.
HE READ "They Satisfy."
AND ON a billboard.
AND ON a card.
IN THE street-car.
AND IN the dealer's window.
AND ON the counter.
HE READ "They Satisfy."
AND HE bought a pack.
OF THESE cigarettes.
AND I asked him.
"WHERE'S the joke, Bill?"
AND BILL said.
"WHY THE darn fools.
SPENDING THEIR money.
PICKING ON me."
SO I said, "You bought 'em."
DIDN'T THEY satisfy?"
AND BILL said "Sure."
BUT HERE'S the joke.
FOR OVER a year.
I'D ALREADY been smoking
THAT BRAND.

WE admit it, the joke's on us. And over three million other smokers are "in on it" with Bill. But the real joke is on anybody who looks for "Satisfy" anywhere but in Chesterfields—for the Chesterfield blend can't be copied!

Brain Fag.

What better way to ease the mind after a hard day's work than a game of billiards.
